In the lovely farmhouse residence of Kippy Hammond and her husband, Jerome Henriquez, you will experience the local flavors of France that are not evident in the usual tourist tours of the region. Lovely in-home dinners, restaurant outings, picnics in the countryside, lazy evenings around the fire, unlimited studio access, taking the model inside and out to get the full effect of the French flavor of light and color—

THIS is the full artist's experience... painting the figure, the portrait, landscape and still life French Style. La Bonne Etoile Artist Retreat will wrap its magic around you, enchanting and inspiring you for a memorable two weeks or twelve days of painting delight.

This particular region of France, while a very big French tourism destination, isn't as highly visited by English speaking tourists, so, guides will be added to our group from time to time. The cities chosen are not so large that anyone who chooses to slip away and wander will not feel intimidated. Whether you return to the states exhausted, having taken part in every class, excursion, and every extra minute in the studio or balance your stay with rest and relaxation as top priority, our hopes are that you leave La Bonne Etoile inspired. Inspired in your art and your spirit, having acquired new skills in creativity and foreign travel.

As a special treat, click on the book cover for much more information about La Bonne Etoile than I can tell you here. Try some of the recipes...samples of the chef prepared food during the workshops!
